Fair Flashes

Nice that the parking area has been sprinkled. It would be pretty dusty if it hadn't been.

Sons of the American Legion have a parcel and cloak checking booth near the Red Cross tent. That's nice.

Pedestrians will probably reach the fair site easier by entering Marcus P. Bennett, Jr. Memorial Park through the Canal Street gate, but it's quite a hike out to the big exhibit tent, which is out on the easterly edge of the field, near the flag pole.

We thought for a time that the fair was going to be at the back door of the carnival, but after a hop-skip-and-jump through the big tent this morning, we must insist that the carnival is at the back door of the fair.

High school and Placerville Grammar School and some of the rural schools closed Friday, for the fair opening, and we'll bet they are agreed it was worth while, too.

Two different dances have been announced for Saturday night. One is to be in the I. O. O. F. Hall under the auspices of the Odd Fellows' Lodge, with Red's Rhythm Rascals furnishing the music. The other will be at Motor City, with The Wanderers furnishing dance music and entertainment.

Bender Chosen By Summit

Farm Center Names Former Supervisor To Succeed Resigned Chairman

Lyman A. Bender, of Pleasant Valley, former Supervisor in the Second District, was elected chairman of the Summit Farm center on Thursday evening.

Mr. Bender succeeds Al Bryan, stationed in the district for the past two years with the Soil Conservation Service, whose work now calls him to other fields.

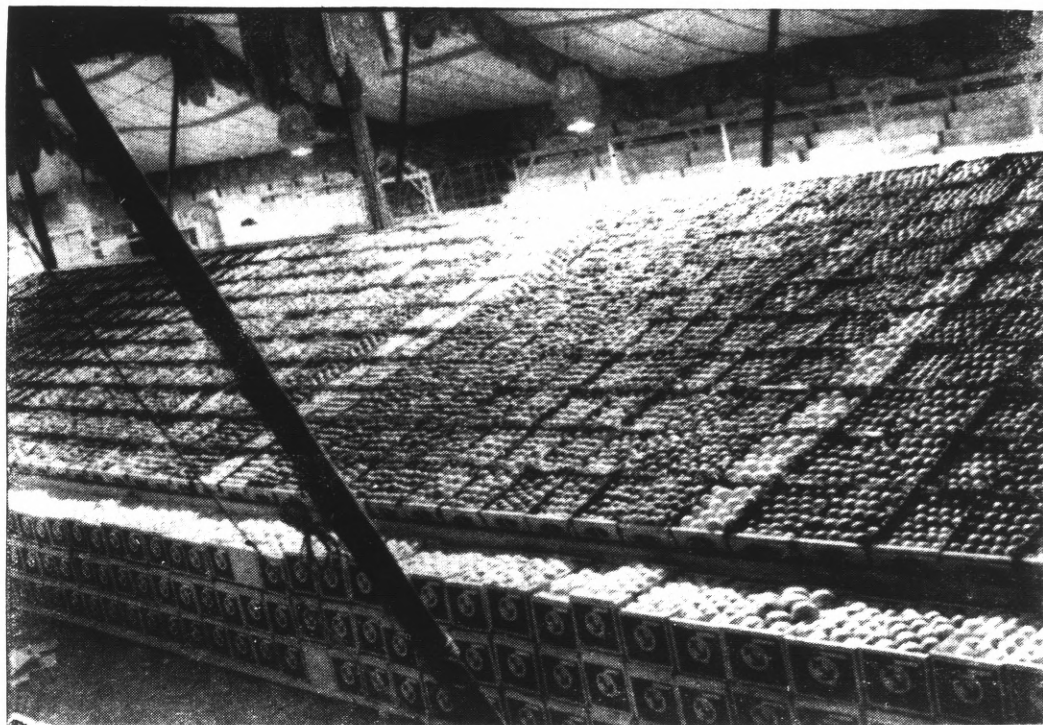

Other business of the meeting included a final roundup of plans for participation in the county fair, and a discussion of the principles and practices of fertilizing and the livestock and wool outlook, by Farm Advisor Lilley. In addition, a reel of motion pictures was shown.

In accepting chairmanship of the center, Mr. Bender said he would be glad to work with other leading farmers of the district, and made particular reference to the need for electric power in the community as one problem toward which the farm center might turn its attention in search of a solution.

Fine, Probation For Drunken Driver

Jerry Seay, arrested near midnight Thursday night by city officer John Bathurst, pleaded guilty in city court Friday morning before Police Judge Eugene Creed to charges of drunken driving.

The court imposed a fine of $200 and a six-month period of probation. Seay was remanded to jail pending the completion of arrangements to pay the fine.

IF AN APPLE A DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY, then El Dorado County residents need have no fear for their health, judging from the number and variety of apples displayed at the El Dorado County Fair. Judging on the Apple Show, a portion of which is shown in this picture by our staff photographer, began shortly after the fair opened Friday morning. The fair will close on Sunday evening with a distribution of apples and pears to those who purchase two admission tickets after 4 o'clock.

APPLE AND PEAR SHOWS DOMINATE CENTER OF EXHIBIT TENT

Spectators Praise Flower Show, High School Booth And Display By J-H Club Members; Judging Of Main Fruit Exhibits Under Way; Forest Service Map, Lookout Station Centers On Attraction

By FAIRN WARMER

Can you take time from what you are doing to make a quick trip to the El Dorado County Fair?

O. K. Come on. We go out Canal Street. Of course, you can go via Coloma to Bee Street, too, if you want to, for all roads lead to Bee Street and Acacia Way and thence to the five-acre free parking area.

Nice that they have signs along the way, and traffic directors, too. You just can't get lost if you follow directions. Let's drive well forward into the parking area where a half dozen nice young men show us where to leave our bus, and now, where's the gate?

Oh, yes, just a few steps over this way and there is the big exhibit tent. Well, all set? Here we go.

This booth on the right as we enter is the high school display. It features home economics work of the pupils and—

What's that? Oh, don't be looking around at the apple and pear displays, we'll come to them in a minute. Let's look at the high school booth.

Next is the Georgetown food display and the general mining display next to that, featuring the entry of the Diamond Springs Lime Company.

So you think we really have something here, eh? Well, you ain't seen nothin' yet.

There's the Placerville Ski Club display. That fellow sprawled up there on the hill looks like Adolph Martin;—and this is the flower show.

You bet there is plenty of color. It's too bad we can't stay longer with this display, but turn around, and—

There is the apple show with about 700 boxes of apples of 35 varieties on the rack, and about 300 more down in front. Yes, they are judging the apples now.

If you can pry yourself away from this colorful array of floriculture and horticulture, we'll move on around to the lumber exhibits. You wouldn't see anything like these lumber displays any place in the world, except, possibly, a world's fair, and then it's just a chance.

There's the "wooden box" booth and Jerry Potts on duty. Hi, Jerry.

Amador Lawyer Praises Fair

District Attorney Martin Inspects El Dorado County Exposition On Friday

"You really have something here; I'm amazed," was the greeting of District Attorney Allen Martin, of Amador County, who visited the El Dorado County Fair Friday morning.

Mr. Martin, accompanied by Mrs. Martin, was here to "get ideas" in the event that Amador County decides to hold a county fair, and conferred with District Attorney Henry S. Lyon on the legal phases of the El Dorado County exposition.

"It's remarkable what you have done in thirty days," declared Mr. Martin.

Dr. L. J. Anderson, secretary-manager of the El Dorado County Fair, refused to accept all of the credit for the showing and thanked Attorney Martin for his commendation.

"I was especially fortunate in having John Winkelman to work on the fruit displays and was mighty lucky to have Willard Wilkinson to fall back on when John went to the hospital," Anderson said.

"The rest of the fair is the result of the co-operative efforts of the people of the entire county. That is the marvelous thing about it to me. I'm just tickled pink."

Windsors Postpone Tour Of U. S.

PARIS, (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, and his wife, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, of Baltimore, have postponed their proposed tour of the United States it was officially announced tonight.

AMATEUR HOUR TONIGHT

Baby Show Held During Afternoon With Forty Awards In 5 Classes

Aside from the excellence of the exhibits at the El Dorado County Fair, the feature of the day's program was the baby show, held at 2 o'clock this afternoon with forty awards going to winners in five different age groups. Topping tonight's program of special events will be the American Legion amateur hour contest for entries from Placerville.

This show has been arranged under the direction of Leslit Butts.

Saturday night, the amateur hour contest will be for entries residing outside the city of Placerville but within El Dorado County, and Sunday night the finals will be held, with the winners Friday night and the winners Saturday night participating for grand prizes.

BULLETIN

El Dorado County officials received confirmation Friday afternoon of the arrest at New York City by the Burns Detective Agency of H. C. Lahr, wanted in this county to answer a charge that he forged the name of A. L. Lampson, of Lake Valley, to checks aggregating about $200.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon said he has a complete confession from Lahr in his files and would go to Sacramento this afternoon to request extradition papers. Mr. Lyon said he will ask the Governor to name Sheriff George M. Smith as the agent to return Lahr. The accused is also said to have written several fictitious checks in Sacramento County.

Bert Gilman Marden Buried Thursday

Last rites were held Thursday at Sacramento for Bert Gilman Marden, who died on November 2. A native of California, Mr. Marden was the father of Melvin Marden, Green Valley. Mrs. Melvin Marden is the former Elsie Veerkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Veerkamp, of Smith Flat.

FAIR FEATURES GRID GAME

Cougar-Sonora Clash, Stock Show, Fiddler's Contest, Special Saturday Events

Saturday's special attractions at the El Dorado County Fair should appeal to the interest of a wide section of the county's population.

With livestock and poultry shows in the morning and the high school football game in the afternoon, Cougars vs. Sonora, the special attractions of the day will continue into the evening with the old-time fiddlers' contest and the county semi-finals of the American Legion amateur hour.

Livestock and poultry trucks will enter the fair arena via the Coloma street entrance for the livestock and poultry shows which will start soon after 9 o'clock in the morning.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the Cougars clash with the Sonora high school eleven in a game that will have the zest and color of a "little big game."

Sonora is sending its 43-piece band and the Cougars will have the El Dorado County band. The Cougars must win over Sonora to stay in the race for the CIF league championship.

Old-time fiddlers will contest at 7 o'clock in the evening and the amateur hour contest will follow.

State's Relief Office Moved

Headquarters In Placerville To Be Open Tuesdays And Fridays, Effective Today

The state relief administration offices in Placerville, until this date on a full-time basis, have been consolidated with the offices at Auburn and henceforth the offices in Placerville will be open only two days a week.

This will be on Tuesdays and Fridays.

All clients of the office are asked to bear the change in mind for no one will be on duty to handle relief cases on any other day.

During the two days, Tuesdays and Fridays, the offices will be open as usual at the relief headquarters, near Main and Charles Streets.

In making this announcement, state relief officials explained that for purposes of economy in administration, the SRA offices of Nevada, Placer and El Dorado counties have been combined and are to have their headquarters at Auburn.

Representatives will visit Placerville twice each week, on the days indicated.

This & That

By The Titlitate

Whoops! We're off to the races again. And this, my dear friends, positively ends our prophetic era if we do not get more than three correct in this week's list. For the California Washington game, of course, we take the mighty Bears (may they remain mighty this week if only for our sake); Stanford over U. S. C.; Pacific over the California Ramblers; Fresno over Nevada; Santa Clara over San Jose (we would like to see that); Oregon over Washington State; St. Mary's over U. of San Francisco; and last but not least, Placerville will continue what they started last week.

The thought occurred to us the other day (it came in a mild sort of way) that Halloween isn't quite what it used to be and something ought to be done about it—in Placerville anyway. We don't know how you fared this year but a hasty survey of the town the morning after assured us that the event is becoming more "routyish" every year. Of course we must let the kids have their fun and "it only happens once a year" and all that but do they really have fun soaping the same windows year after year? Is there any practical joke or humor in the identical tricks which occur every year? We think not and herewith offer a panacea that has been worked successfully in one city at least. Minneapolis had "hoodlum" trouble every Halloween and gangs of youngsters became so bold as to defy the police and cause thousands of dollars worth of damage. A small group of interested citizens banded together and decided that this misdirected carnival spirit could be counteracted by allowing the children to enjoy legitimate fun in the form of directed parties. All the recreational organizations, youth clubs, service clubs, schools, and churches were invited to join this Halloween committee and they did to the fullest extent. Parties were given in every neighborhood or district and it was estimated that 90,000 young people, one-fifth of the population of Minneapolis, attended a party of some kind that night. As a result, police squad car calls were cut more than a third from the previous year's total, street light breakage and false alarm calls were also greatly reduced. Well, it is just a suggestion—we'll remind you of it again next year—before Halloween.

According to a report in a Sacramento paper, J. A. Fortna, formerly agent in Placerville for the Associated Oil Company and one-time treasurer of the Placerville Ski Club, has been elected president of the Woodland Chamber of Commerce. "Al" is oil company agent in Yolo and part of Colusa Counties.

and the Pauper," where a character is patching his pants and saying "Patch beside a patch is good housewife; but patch upon patch is sheer beggary!"—this is likened to an experience occasioned by the writer who treated five of his friends to five glasses of beer and consequently had to pay a sales tax. "My immediately-subsequent language was not printable, for already I was paying a federal alcohol tax; already I was paying a state excise tax and atop that I was being mulcted another tuppence!"—a tax on tax on tax is sheer something or other.

Earl Ennis gathered this one from a small Dutch farmhouse near Fresno and we pass it on to you if you have not seen it already in his fine column at the entrance is a neatly lettered sign that reads: "Bump—bell don't make."

EMPIRE THEATER HAS NEW MARQUEE AND FURNISHINGS

The brightest spot on Main Street of an evening is the Empire Theater, where Miss Ruth Knacke, manager, is completing remodeling and refurbishing of the lobby and foyer.

A new marquee has been erected, generously supplied with electric power, and the work of remodeling and refurbishing the lobby and foyer is nearing completion.

Celebrating the occasion, the Empire management has scheduled the following features for the county fair week-end: Thursday and Friday, "San Quentin"; Saturday, "Marry The Girl" and "Two Gun Law" as the second feature, and on Sunday and Monday, Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power in "Thin Ice."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Porter of Latrobe, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonetti and daughter, Georgia of French Creek, spent a very pleasant week-end visiting in Roseville with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cope. Mrs. Cope took them to many places of interest to them and Mrs. Bonetti added quite a number of new specimens of rock to her rock garden at her home at "Sunnyside Farm."

Boy Scouts Enjoy Work, Hike To Webber Creek

Scouts of Troop 87 met Sunday morning at the Junior Community hall and dismantled the chute in the rear of the building and neatly piled the lumber, after which they hiked to Webber Creek.

Following luncheon, during which some of the Scouts passed cooking tests, the group enjoyed games until time to return home.

According to Bill Rupley, troop scribe, the group was under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Parnell and included Senior Patrol Leader Bob Sinclair, and Scouts George Taylor, Norman Austin, Russell Land, Jim Gillette, Leonard Del Carlo, Art Griggs, Walter Koerner.

Apple Show Is Dominant

something about lumber, we'd tell you more about it. But you've never seen any pine and lumber the likes of that, have you?

There's an attractive arrangement of cabinet work by Blair Brothers, too and here we have—

Yes, indeed, that is the pear show. John Winkeiman was responsible for gathering and laying out the pear and apple shows and then he had to go to the hospital for an operation so Willard Wilkinson took it over and I'll bet John would be proud of it if he were here.

But let's move along. This is the entry of Hangtown Grange. Next comes Gold Trail Grange, Marshall Grange, United Grange, Three Forks Grange and Pilot Hill Grange.

Here's the display of the North Side Farm Center and next is Kelsey center's booth. Those grapes across the top of the Summit center booth were grown by Tony Dagostini and if you want to see some vegetables, look at this display from the gardens of Fred Cox.

There's Will Watkins' honey display and the county schools booth, most of which we saw at the state fair, and over here is the Rescue Farm Center's display.

That tall man in the olive uniform and wearing glasses? Why, that's Ed. Smith, supervisor on Eldorado National Forest. You go over there to that relief map that he is explaining, and he'll tell you how the forest works.

While you are doing that, the rest of us will go over and see the Camino and Gold Hill farm center booths.

Now, all together again?

In the corner here is a forest fire lookout State Division of Forestry, I think, or is it Eldorado Forest. Anyhow, it's a fire lookout and if you would like, the attendant will explain how a lookout locates a fire when he sights it.

There's the display of the Institute of Forest Genetics. That's in the Forest Service, now, you know. It's a part of the California Forest Experiment Station at Berkeley.

If you can take time to inspect this display by Snowline and Mosquito Civilian Conservation Corps camps, you'll find it worth your while and you'll know more about the CCC, too.

There's the Soil Conservation Service booth and over here is the Agricultural Conservation Service booth.

There, in the center, are the plate displays by the school children and around behind that, directly opposite the county schools exhibit, is the gold display, under glass, but look at the gold!

The American Legion Auxiliary shows some novel vegetables and don't miss the novel fruit entry of the Placerville Grammar school.

Well, that's the main exhibit tent in a hurry except that the Georgetown firemen, the V. F. W., the 20-30 Club and the Placerville P. T. A. have refreshment booths.

You think you'll stay and really see the fair?

O. K. You'll find the auto and tractor show outside and a little to the right. I'm going back to the office. It's clever the way they have worked out the traffic problem. When you drive out of the parking area, you go out the Coloma Street gate. It's all one-way that way and eliminates a lot of confusion. Well, so long, glad you came.

MIAMI, Fla., (UP)—When a Sunday outing of Negroes ended up in a hospital here after a truck crash, 16 of them gave the name of Bront. They were Lockheed Bront, his wife and 14 of their children.

The woman said there were seven more little Bronts at home who had been unable to find places on the truck.

A license to wed was issued at Reno on Thursday to Walter Neilsen, 25, of Sacramento, and Harriet Tully, 22, of Placerville.

POPULAR COUNTY PAIR WED ON FRIDAY AT RENO

Sometime today at Reno, Hazel Leventon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leventon, of Grizzly Flat, and Theodore Rupley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rupley, of Placerville, will be married.

The couple left Placerville Friday morning with intentions to wed at Reno. They were accompanied by the parents of the prospective bridegroom and by Mr. and Mrs. Vic Parker, the latter being a sister of the bride-elect.

The couple planned to return to Placerville following the ceremony, and then leave on a week's wedding trip to the northern part of the state after which they will be at home at Forbestown, near Oroville, where Mr. Rupley is employed in the trucking business.

The couple are well-known throughout the county and have a host of friends with whom we join in good wishes.

RYAN MAY GET CHANCE AS WARDEN AT FOLSOM

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—A. R. O'Brien, of the state prison directorate, said today he would vote for Captain Ryan as the next Warden of Folsom prison when the board meets to name a warden tomorrow, if Ryan is declared by physicians to be in shape to handle the post.

O'Brien holds the key to the appointment as two of the remaining four prison directors favor Clyde Plummer, Los Angeles police captain, and two favor Ryan.

Wherever you drive ...

FOUR MILES IN FIVE ARE STOP-AND-GO

It's the Costliest kind of driving you do!

ONE STOP can waste enough gas to take you 1/3 of a mile! That's what makes today's driving, in city or village, so costly.

To reduce the waste of stop and go, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline. This balancing process completely rearranges the chemical structure of gasoline ... makes Super-Shell "digestible" for your motor, just as cooking makes food digestible for you. At all times, your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

Super-Shell is on sale at the Shell dealer in your neighborhood.
